- Duke Robillard is the current W.C Handy Award winning 'Blues Guitarist Of The Year' a title he's held for three of the past four years. Duke is also the two time Canadian Maple Blues Award Winner as "International Blues Artist of the Years"

- 'Exalted Lover' is a blues based recording that will appeal to Roots music fans as well and will be marketed to both audiences.

-Pam Tillis lends her incredible voice to a duet with Duke on 'I'll Never Be Free' and Debbie Davies adds her distinctive sound, playing guitar and singing with Duke on 'How Long Has It Been'.

- "Duke Robillard has elevated the art of blues guitar playing to a multi- dimensional concept that ranges from the pure-toned swing of Charlie Christian, to the funk distortion of New Orleans R&B".—John Sewnson, Editor Rolling Stone Jazz and Blues Album Guide

- Duke founded Roomful Of Blues in 1969. Duke's resume also includes a stint with The Fabulous Thunderbirds and sessions with Bob Dylan ('Time Out Of Mind'), Ruth Brown, Jimmy Witherspoon, Jay McShann, Herb Ellis, Billy Boy Arnold and dozens of others.

- Duke tours constantly with a hard driving band that includes veterans Doug James on sax and Matt McCabe on piano.

- Duke's biography will be published by Hal Leonard Books.
